

BIG SKY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

BIG SKY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT RENOVATION

BSED is advertising early notice for the bid release, which is anticipated for mid-March. Due to the nature of the project's funding, questions regarding the bid package or project details will need to be held until the bid release.

Big Sky Economic Development is renovating the four-story, 24,111sf Montana National Bank Building for the purpose of taking its suite of business support services to the next level, including a focus on entrepreneurial development through the "Rock31" program.

Rock31 is a unique program that is geared towards serving local entrepreneurs by providing co-working space, incubation services, and acceleration programming.

This facility will put BSED in a space that honors the history of downtown Billings while helping new and existing businesses flourish and grow.

The U.S. Economic Development Administration is participating in the funding for this project.

